

Ji Young Kim is in the Ph.D. in Applied Behavior Analysis program at Teachers College, Columbia University. She received her M.A. in Applied Behavior Analysis at Teachers College, Columbia University in 2019 and her B.A. from Barnard College, Columbia University Cum Laude with a degree in psychology in 2017. Ji Young is interested in the translation of behavioral economics research to the design of educational system. For example, the application of delay discounting in a natural environment to investigate individuals' spending/saving behavior and finding efficient ways to implement instructions and in classwide token economy systems.